

Blake Wilson

Art Teacher at Atkins High School

My name is Blake Wilson and I am the art teacher here at Atkins High School. This is my first year at Atkins and my first year in the teaching profession. I completed my BA in English at the University of Arkansas and have also completed a BA in studio art specializing in graphic design at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

Prior to entering the teaching profession and coming to Atkins High School I served as a freelance graphic designer. In this role I designed a wide range of pieces for my clients, including business cards, brochures, training manuals, as well as web banners. In my free time I enjoy painting in oil, acrylic, or water color as well as drawing in either charcoal or pastel.

My passion rests squarely in creating visual art. It is this passion for making art that I am attempting to bring to the students of Atkins High School. The district administration and community support here at Atkins is outstanding and I feel honored to teach here and be a part of this strong education community.
